

Alberta Accident Benefits Initial Claims Process

Overview

If you have been injured in an automobile accident in Alberta, you are entitled to accident benefits coverage regardless of whether you were at fault for the accident. The benefits you receive depend on the type of injury you have:

- If your injury is a sprain, strain or a whiplash associated disorder I or II, your primary health care practitioner (chiropractor, medical doctor or physical therapist) does not have to seek approval of the insurer for payment for treatment of these injuries if you provide notice of your claim. Your primary health care practitioner will be able to bill the automobile insurer for all treatment services outlined in the “Diagnostic and Treatment Protocols” that are not covered by Alberta Health Care Insurance. These protocols have been developed in consultation with primary health care practitioners and are based on the best research and evidence currently available.
- For all other injuries, or if you choose not to follow the diagnostic and treatment protocols, you will need to pay the health service provider for any services not covered by Alberta Health Care Insurance. You will be reimbursed for eligible expenses from your extended health care benefits (e.g., Blue Cross or similar employee benefits plan) and then by your automobile insurer.

What to do if you are injured in a Automobile Accident:

1. See a primary health care practitioner (chiropractor, medical doctor, physical therapist) as soon as possible for an assessment of your injury and, if needed, treatment advice.
2. File an injury accident report with the police.
3. Complete the attached Notice of Loss and Proof of Claim Form (AB-1), retain a copy for your records and send the original signed form(s) to the insurance company. If you are unable to send the form within the following timeframes, submit it to your insurance company as soon as practicable and explain the reason for the delay.
 - If your injury is diagnosed as a sprain, strain or a whiplash associated disorder I or II, submit this form within 10 days of the accident so that you can access accident benefits described as the “Diagnostic and Treatment Protocols.”
 - If you have other types of injuries, or you choose not to access the accident benefits described as the “Diagnostic and Treatment Protocols”, submit the form within 30 days of the accident.
 - If a family member is fatally injured in the collision, you can access funeral, grief counseling and death benefits. This form should be submitted within 30 days of the accident.
4. You will be contacted about the benefits you are entitled to receive after the insurance company reviews your completed form. If your insurance company needs any additional information in order to process your application, they will contact you.

If you have further questions about this form, the process or your benefits, please contact your claims adjuster. If you do not know who your claims adjuster is, contact your insurer or the Insurance Bureau of Canada, at 1-800-377-6378.

Important Notice Concerning Your Personal Information

The personal information you provide in forms AB-1, AB-1a (Claim for Disability Benefits) or AB-2 (Treatment Plan) is collected under the authority of the Insurance Act, Alberta's Automobile Insurance Accident Benefits Regulation, Diagnostic and Treatment Protocols Regulation and all applicable privacy legislation.

- Your primary health care practitioner or dentist will need to collect personal information from you and from other health service providers and will need to use and disclose your personal information to provide you with appropriate diagnosis, treatment and care.
- Your insurance company and its agents will need to collect, use and disclose personal information from you, your primary health care practitioner, and other health service providers concerning the accident, your injuries, any pre-existing conditions that may impede your recovery progress, the amount of treatment and care provided to you, and any assessments of your injuries and indications as to your treatment progress in order to facilitate contact with you, to determine your eligibility for accident and/or disability income benefits, and to administer your claim.

Under applicable privacy legislation, it is necessary to obtain your consent to authorize the sharing of your personal information as specified above. The legislation also regulates how primary health care practitioners, dentists, other health service providers, and insurance companies can use and disclose your information once they have it. Section 2 of form AB-1 will ask for your consent or that of your agent. Refusal to provide your authorization and consent could result in an inability to provide you with the treatment and care you require (if not covered by Alberta Health Care Insurance) and may result in an inability for your insurance company to process your claim, in whole or in part.

Your primary health care practitioner, dentist or other health service provider and insurance company will retain and rely on a copy of your consent for the period of time that your treatment and care is ongoing and your claim is active. You may revoke your consent at any time in writing to your primary health care practitioner or dentist and your insurer or any other person to whom you give consent, subject to continuing legal obligations. If you have any questions concerning the collection, use or disclosure of your personal information, please ask your primary health care practitioner, dentist, or your insurance claims representative or adjuster.
